

Outsourced Product
Development Services

Outsourced Product Development (OPD) is the rapidly emerging forte with many product companies looking towards India to outsource their product development work. Today, product companies deem it essential to have an extension of their Professional Services Team at the India Offshore Development Center to add to their competitive strength.

Over the years Cordiant has gained significant expertise developing a variety of sophisticated products for clients world-wide leveraging on its India-based offshore infrastructure. Cordiant understands the intricacy of product development and has processes and best-practices fine-tuned for outsourced product development.

Cordiant perceives the ISVs needs not only from a technical standpoint, but also from a strategic business perspective. Cordiant aligns with the ISVs long-term business goals to deliver a solution that best-suit the ISVs present and future business needs. Cordiant is an ideal partner for ISVs who want to gain maximum return on their investments (ROI). ISVs leverage on Cordiant's expertise and experience to rapidly respond to business problems and opportunities.
